THE CONCEPT

There are places that promise escape, and then there are places that change your pace entirely. Welcome to La Muela, a secure luxury polo lifestyle estate set in the vast, open sweep of the Namibian savannah. Here, privacy is protected, the horizon feels endless, and life is shaped by heritage sport, architectural refinement, and the rare freedom of low-density, off-grid living.

La Muela is being created for a small number of owners who want more than a home. With established polo facilities and a landscape that invites presence, each day carries a quieter kind of luxury: space to breathe, space to slow down, and space to reconnect.

This is not a destination diluted by scale or repetition. With only a limited release of properties, ownership becomes more than residence. It becomes a place in the founding chapter of a new polo destination in Southern Africa, and a legacy defined by nature, refinement, and exclusivity

THE ESTATE

A private estate of 1,000 hectares where the disciplined elegance of the polo tradition meets the untamed soul of the Namibian landscape.

The architecture does not compete with the land, it yields to it. Each manor is designed with a singular philosophy: to bring the outside in. Raw Namibian stone and earth tones create interiors that feel as natural as the landscape itself, while private terraces and pools open toward the African savannah.

These are not merely residences. They are private retreats for the discerning traveler, sophisticated venues for entertaining peers, and sanctuaries where the active pursuit of polo meets profound tranquility. The land remains primary. The manors simply belong to it.

While the estate is guided by a unified architectural vision, each manor remains a personal expression of its owner. Residents may select from six carefully curated manor designs, each created to embody the estate's design philosophy and relationship with the landscape. These designs provide a refined starting point, yet flexibility remains central to the experience. Floor plans and internal layouts may be adapted to suit individual lifestyles and requirements, while those seeking a more bespoke residence may commission an entirely custom manor. All residences, whether selected from the collection or designed from first principles, are crafted in accordance with the Estate Design Manual, ensuring a harmonious architectural language throughout the estate while allowing each home to retain its own distinct character.

Life at La Muela unfolds across a landscape alive with movement and discovery. Indigenous plains game roam freely across the 1,000-hectare estate, creating daily encounters with Namibia's remarkable wildlife in its natural setting

.An extensive network of cycling and hiking trails invites residents to explore the land at their own pace, whether at sunrise beneath open skies or in the quiet golden hours of dusk. Every journey through the estate reconnects one with the rhythm of nature.

At its heart lies world-class polo infrastructure, thoughtfully designed to honour the sport's heritage while embracing contemporary luxury. Here, athletic pursuit, outdoor adventure, and refined living exist in effortless harmony.

INFRASTRUCTURE

POWER AND ENERGY

Untethered from the national grid, each property will be equipped with a fully grid-independent solar energy system, thoughtfully combining high-efficiency photovoltaic (PV) panels with advanced battery storage to capture and hold the abundant Namibian sunlight. To guarantee uninterrupted power during periods of low solar gain or peak demand, a silent backup generator is seamlessly integrated. Engineered to operate without disturbing the estate's profound tranquility, this generator ensures that modern reliability never intrudes upon the quiet rhythm of the land. This robust system is meticulously designed for long-term operational independence, reducing reliance on external infrastructure while upholding a deep commitment to sustainable, earth-conscious living. Modern comfort and reliability are never compromised, yet they coexist quietly with the raw beauty of the surrounding landscape. The base installation starts at 15 kW, with scalable options available to accommodate the full spectrum of estate living.

WATER SUPPLY

Each Property is seamlessly connected to the estate-wide water reticulation network, a system supplied by strategically located local boreholes. Central water reservoirs have been integrated throughout the estate to guarantee a constant and reliable supply of potable water at all times. This infrastructure ensures that residents enjoy uninterrupted access to this most precious resource, even during the dry season. The system is designed with redundancy in mind, providing the assurance of water security that underpins comfortable and self-sufficient living on the estate.

ROAD NETWORK

Each Property is accessed via a dedicated entrance that connects to a thoughtfully planned network of sustainably constructed and engineered gravel roads throughout the estate. These roads are designed to harmonize with the natural contours of the land, minimizing environmental impact while ensuring smooth and reliable passage. Natural watercourses are crossed via engineered culverts, allowing seasonal flows to pass undisturbed while guaranteeing uninterrupted access in all weather conditions. The result is a road system that feels as organic as the landscape it traverses, yet delivers the durability and functionality required for everyday estate living.

CONNECTIVITY

Each Property can be equipped with high-speed fiber or wireless radio-link infrastructure, provided by a local telecommunications provider. This ensures fast, stable, and reliable internet access at all times, keeping residents seamlessly connected to the wider world. Whether for business, entertainment, or staying in touch with family and friends, the connectivity offering meets the highest modern standards. Yet it does so without intruding upon the estate's profound sense of retreat, allowing the digital world to serve you quietly in the background.

SECURITY

Comprehensive protection and complete peace of mind for residents and families are delivered through a multi-layered security framework. A 24/7 manned gatehouse controls all access to the estate, while full perimeter fencing and extensive CCTV coverage provide constant surveillance across the property. Regular security patrols and rapid response capabilities further reinforce this robust system, ensuring that every precaution has been taken. Residents can rest assured that their privacy and safety are safeguarded with the utmost discretion and professionalism, allowing life on the estate to be lived with quiet confidence.

EQUESTRIAN CENTRE

At the heart of the La Muela estate lies a world-class equestrian centre, designed to cater to the needs of the most discerning polo enthusiasts and horse lovers. The facilities include exceptional stabling, comprehensive training arenas, and professional groom services on site, ensuring that every horse receives the meticulous care and attention it deserves. The centre embodies the noble traditions of the sport, providing an environment where discipline and passion converge. Whether preparing for a chukka or simply enjoying the daily rhythm of stable life, residents have everything they need at their side, seamlessly integrated into the estate.
