UNDERTAKING BY APPLICANTS ADMITTED TO CPOA COMPLEXES

If I am admitted to a home/residence under control of the Cape Peninsula Organisation for the Aged, I hereby acknowledge/irrevocably agree:

Date:	Signature:	Relationship:
	 g	 •

- 1. To abide by the Organisation's regulations and household rules and amendments thereto.
- 2. To pay my monthly board and lodging fees in advance on the first day of each month, the amount of which fees are calculated in accordance with the Organisation's board and lodging policy.
 - 2.1 Should it occur that there are board and lodging shortfalls due by me then, with the Organisation's written approval, these may be accumulated as a debt against my Estate.
 - 2.2 CPOA reserves the right to increase the Board and Lodging tariff on the 1st April each year.
 - 2.3 Any funds belonging to me and given by myself or on my authority to the Organisation to be held in Trust for me may, in the event of my death, be applied towards settling my debts that I may have incurred with the Organisation.
 - 2.4 I/we understand that together with my/our relatives, funeral arrangements and costs are our responsibility. If a funeral policy exists that is not paid-up, we accept that the payment of these monthly premiums must be undertaken by the resident's and/or relatives.
- 3. Where medical, nursing and paramedical services are not included in the board and lodging tariff of the complex, the resident will be charged for such services.
 - 3.1 In the event of my being admitted to a CPOA complex that does not have a nursing staff complement, I accept that should health problems necessitate the administration of medication that I am prepared to accept this procedure from other staff members.
- 4. As a permanent resident should I decide to leave the complex, I will give the Organisation two calendar months' notice in writing, or pay the Organisation two months' board and lodging in lieu of notice. Should I pass away while resident in the CPOA complex, an administration fee equivalent to one month's full board and lodging will become payable from my Estate.
 - 4.1 CPOA reserves the right to grant access to the next of kin involved in the admission process.
 - 4.2 The next of kin involved in the admission process has the right to declare who may, may not visit or remove the resident from CPOA's property. This is subject upon CPOA investigation between the resident and next of kin.
- 5. The SELLER shall at all times retain the right, in the event of the mental or physical disability of either the PURCHASER or his or her spouse, deteriorating to such an extent that the SELLER'S care in the Unit is inadequate, to cause such a PURCHASER in consultation with their family and Medical Practitioner to be moved from the Unit to the health care facility or to another complex administered by the SELLER where such adequate health care can be provided. CPOA has the right to temporarily place a resident in a suitable unit to protect themselves and other residents, whilst process to permanently place them is in motion.
- 6. That the Organisation does not accept responsibility for any personal possessions, jewellery, documents, appliances, etc. brought into the complex by me and that I am responsible for the insurance of such items.
- 7. That should I require a wheelchair, I will purchase or hire same and maintain it in good condition at my expense.
- 8. CPOA reserves the right to refer residents for assessment by medical professionals.
- 9. That should the need arise for any emergency operation to me and my next-of-kin is not available, the manager of the complex or his/her nominee may furnish the consent required by the medical authorities.
- 10. CPOA reserves the right to give notice to residents who exhibit anti-social behaviour, with the care of the resident becoming the relative's responsibility.
- 11. CPOA is not responsible for Medical Aid claims. This is the responsibility of the family.
