A small town called DULLSTROOM

Because of its close proximity to Johannesburg and its plentiful fishing waters, the quaint village of Dullstroom has become a much-loved destination for those wanting a retreat to the tranquillity of nature.

Dullstroom is known for its high altitude fresh air and misty climate, giving the town and its surrounding area a distinctive atmosphere reminiscent of the Scottish Highlands. Its rarefied air and crisp mountain waters provide the perfect cure for modern day pressures.

The town is synonymous with warm hospitality and family fun, characterised by the range of quaint houses, restaurants, shops and activities that create a true sense of country community.

For the catch of the day; FISHING DAMS

The Highland Gate Golf and Trout Estate property is over 700 hectares in size, and only thirty percent of which is actually being developed. The remainder of the property is being left in its natural state for residents to enjoy the environmental attractions it has to offer.

Homeowners and their guests have access to a number of magnificent and abundant trout fishing opportunities, in the natural weirs, streams and dams that punctuate the estate. The noble art of fly-fishing will provide hours of relaxation and release.

The championship Ernie Els GOLF COURSE

Focal to the Highland Gate Golf and Trout Estate is the Ernie Els signature golf course, designed with golfers of all abilities in mind.

The pristine course takes advantage of the dramatic natural terrain and vegetation that the site has to offer, a mix of Highveld grasslands, stone 'koppies' inherent to the Dullstroom area, natural water features and sweeping changes in elevation. Apart from golf, the estate offers hiking trails, fly fishing, mountain biking, horse riding, picnicking, swimming and bird watching to ensure the whole family is catered for in this rare and tranquil setting.
